

length pierced, at the peril of their lives, the mystery of the lights, that mystery which causes the bravest to shudder."

The case of Gu. Kern, charged with murder and arson, was called before Justice Fletcher S. Scott this morning at 9 o'clock, the state being represented by Prosecutor J. W. Horner and the defense by Attorney B. G. Smythe. The affidavit containing the charges was read to Mr. Kern and he pleaded not guilty.

The charge brought against Kern is the result of a confession made to deputy state fire marshals by Arthur Grubb, a former bar tender and hotel clerk for Kerns in his place of business in South Second street, Grubb confessing that he fired the place at the instance of Kern, to destroy an electric piano on which there was $800 insurance. The fire got beyond Grubb's control and the hotel burned, five lodgers meeting their death in the fire.

The first witness called was Dave Murphy, local insurance representative, who testified that Kern carried insurance on his hotel contents and piano in companies for which the witness acted as agent. After the fire the witness testified, a settlement was effected with Kern for $2863. Murphy testified that Kern also carried insurance in other companies, but was not aware of the amount.

Dr. W. E. Wiyjarch was the next witness and testified to being county coroner at the time of the hotel fire, January 6, 1914. He told of the identification by him of the body of Lewis Stelzer, after it had been removed from the burning building.

The state's chief witness, Arthur Grubb, next took the witness stand. Grubb told in detail of his connection with the alleged burning of the hotel. He said that Kern was indebted to him in the sum of $100 and that when he sought to collect it Kern told him that if he would burn Kern's place he would collect the $800 insurance on it and settle with him. Grubb stated that he agreed to the proposition and that Kern later for Columbus, it being the intention to set the piano on fire on a Sunday night.

Grubb said he did not keep track of the money.

ing awarded to John Woolson and Frank Garrison while Johnny Maybold was awarded the booby. Geo. Saunderson acted as official score keeper and at the same time had charge of the kettles.

A musical program was rendered consisting of vocal and instrumental selections. Short addresses were made by the newly-elected officers, the retiring exalted ruler, Jas. R. Cooper, Fletcher S. Scott, Dr. H. H. Baker and Dr. J. T. Lewis, the latter announcing that he expected in the very near future to reorganize the L. R. S.

The past year in Elkdom has been a successful one and under the guidance of Exalted Ruler Jas. R. Cooper and his efficient corps of officers the lodge has progressed in a manner highly satisfactory to all the members.

HOW TO FORM A BIRD CLUB

Many bird clubs are being organized in the East and Middle West as a result of the widespread interest in the study and protection of the wild birds. The membership of these clubs consists almost wholly of beginners in bird study and those who earnestly desire to have the birds protected. It is there is an ornithologist in the vicinity he is naturally a leading member.

Besides learning to name the wild birds and studying their life habits, these clubs do a most beneficial work in establishing bird reserves, which is accomplished at practically no expense. For example a cemetery by popular consent becomes a bird haven; a community of neighbors agree to a general plan whereby their yards, lots and fields become a bird reserve. Men and boys ignorant of the meaning and worth of bird protection can shortly be made to respect the rules of the bird reserve and the laws of the State by the bird club. There are good state laws to back up such a club. The cat, a serious menace to bird life must be either trapped or shot. By such means bird clubs are solving the cat problem.

The National Association of Audubon Societies, 1974 Broadway, New York City, will send (gratis) to anyone plans for forming bird clubs, and establishing bird reserves.

Sammy—Yem, ve'm; but I always thought it was his telephone number.

Nerv-Worth Blessed Mrs. Emma Blake's Suffering Little Son.

Mrs. Blake lives out on Route 8, Zanesville. Her Nerv-Worth story, which follows, is an important message to the parents of children afflicted with ill of a nervous origin. "Our little boy, who is three years old, was bothered with nervousness. He did not rest at all, day or night. He would jump and jerk and was very weak. He has had these nervous spells ever since he was born. And when we would hold his hands he would quiver all over. "We gave him one bottle of Nerv-Worth and it helped him right from the start. His nerves quieted down. And when we put him to bed now he sleeps good until morning. We recommend Nerv-Worth as a splendid nerve medicine as it did him a world of good.

Working People and "Dress Suits."

A newspaper dispatch the other day reported that the Moulders' Union of Worcester, Mass., had been notified to wear dress suits to their annual dance. The item said other trade unions would do the same thing. It was claimed this would remove social distinction, make the workman feel his own dignity.

Is the idea of wearing "dress suits" spreading among all classes of men? It would certainly be a shock if the farmers should put them on. Yet no one would have predicted 15 years ago that their wives could make them don a boled shirt, starched collar, four-in-hand necktie, and other raiment to compare and dance the contra at the grange. Now "they're all doing it."

Formerly one had to go to swell tilters for this article of attire, that is, unless he were satisfied to rent of Solomon Isaacs. The man of clothes brought out his finest broadcloth and gorgeous linings. He dwelt so eloquently on the elegance of the product, that one usually bought his most costly styles. Many young men have gone beyond their means on this item. A clerk with a job in a new town might buy his dress suit before he paid his landlady.

The common custom among table waiters of wearing dress suits has made this article of masculine wear more common and accessible. Ready-made clothing factories turn them out by the bale, adapted with great skill to various eccentricities of the human figure. Some men make them last for a life time for dress up occasions.

The first time a man puts one on, he luxuriates before the mirror at the glorious sight. He has a new idea of his own importance. The Worcester, Mass., moulders, if they are human, will feel a sentiment of pride superior to that produced by turning out the best casting. To many men who have become accustomed to them, the bother of starched shirt fronts, refractory studs and ties, seems a nuisance. They approve of fine feathers for women, but believe the male of the species should be sartorially inconspicuous.

It is to be hoped that the politicians who were "in" on the expected profits on the state automobile tag contract, didn't spend the $12,000 in anticipation of getting it back out of the state treasury. Nothing so hard to repay as that kind of money!

The men won't have much opinion of the intelligence of the Women's Current Events clubs, until they know something about the stock market and baseball.

Record Bank Clearings.

(Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.)
Pittsburgh bank clearings for the month ended yesterday amounted to $249,013,573.26. This total is $35,000,000 in excess of the best previous February record in 1907, and it is nearly $70,000,000 larger than for the same month last year. During the month a new high record was made for daily clearings, and the figures were not swelled by any special financial operations, neither did stock exchange transactions make any unusual contribution to the total. Ordinarily February is an off month in business, as it is also the shortest month of the year, but bank clearings show that this year it was one of the best months ever experienced in the district of which Pittsburgh is the financial center.

Of course the present boom is due to the state of the steel trade, which is enjoying a degree of prosperity seldom equaled. But this basic industry cannot be exceptionally prosperous without benefiting the entire business situation. The volume of mercantile trade in Pittsburgh is running at the maximum, and this despite the fact that we have been enduring some very erratic weather. The activity, however, is explained by the bank exchanges. Last month they averaged $3,000,000 a day more than in the same month last year. Assuming that a million persons in the Pittsburgh district are engaged in "gainful occupations," then the average for each was an increase of $3 a day for every business day in February. The buying power of each was not increased to that extent, of course, but in the aggregate that is what it amounted to. Some persons who had no buying power at this time last year, and who went into debt for living expenses, have been able to settle and now feel flush.

For the first time in many years every able-bodied man willing to work can find employment, and the advertising columns show that for skilled labor in many lines the demand is in excess of the supply.

America's Handy Man.

(Boston Herald.)

While the United States Senate was ratifying the treaties with Haiti and Nicaragua, some of our Senators may have felt an inclination to move a vote of thanks to the American marine. He is America's Handy man, always ready to go anywhere and do anything, especially as a pacificator in struggling countries that run the risk of ruin through chronic revolution, and he did good work in making peace and clearing the way for the conclusion of those treaties. The marines who went to Nicaragua in 1915 gave four lives at the battle of Masaya, but by that one swift victory they quelled the Mena revolt, and their presence to the number of 100 since then, ostensibly for the protection of the American Legation at Managua, has been the most potent safeguard of orderly government. Last year's occupation of Haiti, in every way efficient and effectual, is fresh in the memories of all. At Port-au-Prince and a few other places our marines will remain for a time, while the people learn to value the rescue of their republic from political and financial wreck.

When Vera Cruz had to be saved from anarchy, for the safety of American citizens in southern Mexico it was the marines who took the lead, and their thankless task was performed so well that the city might be anything but sorry to see them again in authority. They are the custodians of our naval station at Guantanamo in Cuba, and they garrison the naval stations in our island possessions—at Cavite, Olongapo, in the Philippines, at Guam, the Mariana archipelago, and at Pearl Harbor in Hawaii. Go as far as China and you find them guarding our Legation at Peking. And at home, wherever we have a navy yard, a naval magazine, academy, hospital or prison, there they are, as well as on every battleship and armored cruiser that flies our flag. The United States marine corps may be called almost amphibious, in the sense of being equally at home on land and sea; it is an independent branch of the army, serving generally with the navy. His duties and the places of their discharge are so various that the marine must needs be an all-round or handy man. And it is wholly to the credit of his corps as a whole that he never fails us in what is expected of him.

For Congressmen to Ponder

(New York Sun.)

Among the Representatives in Congress who have been misled in the effort to refer the diplomatic negotiations of the United States to the legislative department there is now a single individual who contemplates with equanimity the inevitable consequences of such a course, the period of elapsing before the House resumes its activities on Monday should be devoted by him to a survey of the conditions that attempt has already produced.

This review will compel, we feel sure, recognition of the fact that since the intrusive activities of a few Congressmen began, misunderstandings, misconstructions, false interpretations and untruths have flourished in Washington in a manner hitherto unprecedented; that malign influence has found in the confusion that has attended the debate its most fruitful opportunity, and that grave danger has arisen from the mere threat to alter the accepted and orderly method of transacting our foreign affairs.

Such being the case, how can any member pursue a course whose perils have already been disclosed and whose inherent menace has been demonstrated by the events that have flowed from its mere suggestion?

Automobiles on Farms.

(Providence Journal.)

Prosperity among the moulders of automobiles is not altogether due to orders from city residents. This point is emphasized by the figures showing how motor cars are distributed throughout Pennsylvania. In Lancaster county 18 per cent. of the farmers own automobiles, and on the farms of the Commonwealth as a whole there are 22,608 cars. In other States the proportion of automobiles in the agricultural districts is probably not less than that in Pennsylvania, for the advantage of mechanical power on the roads no longer requires demonstration, and there are many farmers who appreciate the speed, comfort and utility of the new form of transportation.

A few years ago resentment against the motor car was strong in the country towns. Logs were half buried across the roads for the purpose of jolting the occupants of touring cars, and constables were active in arresting the drivers whether or not their speed was excessive. Today the farmers are enthusiastic admirers of the automobile, because its suitability to the requirements of country life has been proved. The change of sentiment indeed is a remarkable one, and the time when every farmer who has the price of a spare horse will own a motor car does not seem to be remote.

Race Prejudice.

St. Louis is the first northern city to do officially and frankly what most northern and southern communities have done silently and, usually, without legal sanction.

There is little doubt, however, that segregation is an accomplished fact wherever the two races are present in large numbers. Chicago's tacit practice is no whit different from St. Louis' expressed determination.

Race prejudice is growing and the spiritual heirs of the abolitionists are now a dwindling minority. The situation cries aloud for some leader strong enough and wise enough to make justice between the races a pleasant and an inspiring ideal. —W. L. Chenery in Chicago Herald.

Dissipating Ennui.

For diversion the kaiser goes to this or that front. Villa's method of dissipating ennui is to get married again. —Toledo Blade.

Better Than Bunk.

Chairman Reynolds of the Iowa Democratic committee, is quoted as saying: "I want to urge the Democratic postmasters to be very diligent and active in politics during the coming campaign." This frank statement is a decided improvement over some of the hypocritical bunk from campaign managers. So long as postmasters are chosen for their political activities it is generally known what is expected of them in times of stress. —Sioux City Tribune.

Looks Less This Way.

The fire loss of the United States and Canada during January totaled $21,423,350. Scattered all around, that does not look as big as though it had been the $21,000,000 taxable property of the 60,000 inhabitants of Rockford, Ill. —Buffalo Inquirer.

Rippling Rhymes

Settling Up.

If every man would pay his bills, just when those bills are due, we'd sidestep many grievous ills which now make people blue. The merchant carries on his books about a million debts, and some who figure there are crooks, and some misfortune's pets. Some hope to play the honest game when they have got the tin, and it may be they'll do that same, soon as their ships come in. But some ships travel mighty slow, of winds and waves the sport; some hit the reef of Norman's Woe, and never come to port. The merchants have to charge us more for everything they sell, to cover the defaulters' score, and hence H. C. of L. Whenever you buy a pound of pills, or quart of pumpkin rind, you're paying something on the bills of those who are behind. If you, who read these simple rhymes, would pay your bills on time, you'd help to cut the price of prunes, and make your life sublime.

Did You Know

That the term "Potter's Field," originated in England? The clay used for pottery there was dug out by whole colonies of men, women and children. The long trenches were left standing just as they had been dug, no attempt being made to refill them. Gradually it became a common practice to place in them the bodies of the dead among the workers, covering them with earth.

THIS IS "BABY WEEK"

What shall Baby Week amount to? The Children's Bureau is urging the two thousand and odd communities which have asked the Bureau for suggestions about the observance of Baby Week, to emphasize the opportunity it affords for extending permanent welfare work in each community.

The Bureau is now at work upon an analysis of the infant welfare work carried on last year in the 599 cities of 10,000 population or over. Although the statistical findings are not yet ready for publication the Bureau offers the following brief preliminary report about the types of infant welfare work which are found in this country.

One hundred and forty-one cities report having one or more infant welfare stations or centers to which mothers may bring their babies for a physician's advice about feeding and general hygiene. Such stations for well babies are distinct from the older and more generally established dispensary or clinic for sick babies.

Most of these infant welfare stations have nurses who visit the mothers in their homes to see that the instructions in baby hygiene given at the station are understood and applied. And such instructive home nursing is widely carried on by other agencies which do not attempt to maintain infant welfare stations.

Care and instruction for prospective mothers is reported as a special branch of their work by departments of health or private agencies in 182 cities. Only 40 nurses are reported for the entire country as devoting their entire time to this prenatal work but there are a large number who give to it some of their time, and there is a growing disposition to include systematic prenatal work as a part of the infant welfare activities.

Careful supervision of the milk supply is a matter of fundamental importance. In many communities there are special classes for teaching school girls in the upper grades how to take care of babies; in 32 states there are laws requiring special treatment of the infant at birth for the prevention of blindness; and there is a growing realization in all sections of the country of the importance of enforcing a complete registration of births, as a fundamental necessity in any comprehensive work for infant welfare.

Theatres

Real boarding house types are seen in the William Fox production, "Merely Mary Ann," in which Vivian Martin is starred. The play is based on Israel Zangwill's famous stage success, in which the orphan girl becomes maid of all work in a city boarding house. In order to secure the proper color, John G. Adolfi, director of the production, invaded one of those New York establishments in which hash and prunes head the menu and in which a long reach is indispensable to one's survival.

Mr. Adolfi so arranged it that the inmates of a large boarding house were invited to the studio to witness the making of the picture. Tables were spread and the guests sat down to dine. Some one proposed that a motion picture be made while the meal was in progress. The suggestion met with general approval and the picture was made, without the slightest suspicion by the guests assembled that they were acting for the camera.

While the boarding house scenes are not devoid of comedy touches, the comedy is not of the slap stick variety which has been injected into some boarding house settings. Auditorium tonight and Thursday matinee and night.

Harry Morey at the Mazda.

On Thursday the Mazda will show another of the fine "Unit" features which have proven so popular with patrons of this house. Harry Morey and other popular Vitagraph stars appear in the piece, "Making Over of Graffray Manning," a splendid film of high merit, full of tender sentiment and intense interest. For this high class production the Mazda will charge but a 5 cent admission price.

At the Gem.

Crane Wilbur, the virile Horsley star, is the author of an exceptionally long while drama, in "Vengeance Is Mine," the Mutual Matinee picture. De Luxe Edition, in which he is now appearing at the Gem theatre.

Crane Wilbur plays the part of a man who insists that it is, and that to every one should be meted out his just punishment. When his own brother is convicted of murder, though it tears his heart, he is absolutely remorseless and refuses his pardon to his kin.

Discovering almost too late, that his brother has accidentally killed a man through the defense of a woman's honor, and that the woman was his own wife, the governor retrieves his sentence in time to save the guiltless man.

Alhambra, Tonight and Tomorrow.
"The Great Divide," the tremendous success which served as a starring vehicle for Henry Miller and Margaret Anglin for many seasons has been adapted and produced in motion pictures by the Lubin Company with House Peters as Steve Ghent and Ethel Clayton as Ruth Jordan. The picture was produced on the identical spot which inspired William Vaughan Moody in his writing and abounds with a wealth of marvelous scenic value as well as dramatic acting. "The Great Divide" will be the attraction at the Alhambra theatre tonight and tomorrow.

Friday and Saturday comes the popular star, Blanche Sweet in her latest screen production, "The Blacklist," produced by Jesse L. Lasky on the Paramount program.

Scientific tests have shown that in occupations employing the larger muscles, women tire more rapidly than men, while in work in which smaller muscles are used they are more efficient.

Lung Trouble Yielded to This Medicine

If you are suffering with serious lung trouble, it will pay to fully investigate Eckman's Alternative, a remedy which has caused many recoveries. One follows:

5323 Girard Ave., Phila.
"Gentlemen—In the winter of 1905 I had an attack of Grippe followed by Pneumonia, and later by Lung Trouble. In the winter of 1906 I had a cough, night sweats, fever and raised quantities of awful-looking stuff, and later I had many hemorrhages, at one time three in three successive days. Three physicians treated me. I was ordered to the mountains, but did not go. Eckman's Alternative was recommended by a friend. After taking a small quantity I had the first quiet night's sleep for weeks. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until entirely gone. I am perfectly well." (Abbreviated.)
(Admited) ANNIE F. LOUGHBRAN.
Eckman's Alternative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and up-building the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Small size, 11; regular size, $2. Sold by leading druggists. Write for booklet of recoveries. Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia.

SHORT DAY

FAVORED BY EIGHTY PER CENT OF 400,000 RAILWAY EMPLOYEES.

Union Leaders Met Today to Tabulate the Referendum Vote Recently Taken.

Chicago, March 8.—More than 80 per cent of the 400,000 railway employees of the country favor demanding an eight hour day with time and a half for overtime, when their wage agreement with the roads expire March 31. It was indicated today when union leaders met here to tabulate the referendum vote on the question.

Leaders of the employees are said to be opposed to arbitrating their differences, although they express the hope that a strike, which would tie up 528 railroads throughout the country will not be necessary. A mail vote has been in progress for two months.

TOLEDO CLUB IS INCORPORATED; FRANCHISE TAKEN

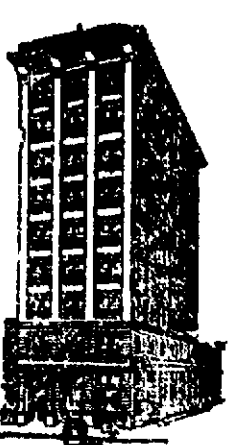

Chicago, March 8.—Incorporation papers were filed here today by the Toledo Baseball company, a corporation organized at Toledo by Roger P. Bresnahan, to take over the franchise of the Cleveland American Association team. The club was purchased from Cleveland bankers Monday by a group of American Association magnates as a temporary arrangement pending organization of the Toledo corporation by Bresnahan.

The capital stock is given as $100,000 and the incorporators besides Bresnahan are Charles F. Northrup, George W. Ritter, John B. McMahon and W. M. Richards, all of Toledo.

BULL SATISFIED WITH TREATMENT, BUT IS DOOMED

It happened in the North End of Newark, late Tuesday afternoon. "Throwing the Bull" was the title of the comedy-drama, featuring Fred Parks, clerk at the Baltimore & Ohio freight house and the bull. A large cast including a team of horses and about one dozen matadors, picadors, toreros and last but not least the abattoir actuated the excitement.

The bull, a 2200 pound specimen, enroute to Jersey City via the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, took exception to his quarters in the train and decided to pull a "Thaw". He chose as his point of escape, the vicinity of the Clinton street railroad crossing. His success was made known a short time later in a hurried call of the freight house by Clinton street residents.

Fred Parks the hero of this thrilling exploit was assigned the role of coaxing the bull back into the car. But the bull refused to listen to Fred's pleadings. Then it happened. Mr. Parks was too modest to speak of his adventure, so one of the other members of the cast supplied the information.

A team of horses was brought on the scene and a chain attached to the bull's neck, after he refused to be coaxed. The acquisition of the horses did not help the argument a bit, and none of the principals cared to flout a red handkerchief. For over an hour the gentleman cow resisted all the attacks of the enemy and was beginning to enjoy the affair, when a bright idea found birth in the fertile brain of Mr. Parks.

"The butcher"—That was one way of defeating the aims of the resisting bull of beef and thus ending the performance. There had to be an ending some time, so why not now?

A local butcher was called and the last scene of the drama depicts a weary crowd trudging south on the Baltimore & Ohio tracks, while the bull apparently satisfied with his victory is being led away to the abattoir.

INVESTIGATING CAUSE OF WOMAN'S DEATH IN CHICAGO'S CHINA TOWN.

Chicago, March 8.—An investigation into the cause of the death in a downtown restaurant last night of Mrs. Nellie Shaw, an expert billiardist, was begun today by the police.

Mrs. Shaw, accompanied by two other women, entered the restaurant and ordered supper. Half an hour later two of the women left and shortly afterward it was discovered that Mrs. Shaw, who remained at the table, was dead.

PRIZE CONTEST A BIG FEATURE OF BABY WEEK

Much interest is being manifested in Baby Week, which is being celebrated in Newark as the result of the co-operation of the City Federation of Women's clubs and the Associated Charities, and to the different days of the week has been assigned work of different kinds which will tend to better the welfare of Newark infants.

Of much interest is the baby contest, and children may be entered to be scored at either the City Hospital or the Newark Sanitarium, today and tomorrow. The hours are from 2 to 4 and the scoring will be done by physicians and attendants. All babies whose parents reside west of Third street and Hudson avenue will be taken to the Sanitarium, and all residing east of these streets will be taken to the City Hospital. Two prizes are to be awarded the children, one of $5 to the child under 1 year old which is given by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., under whose physical test the child is to be scored, and another prize of $5 to the child over 1 year old and under 2 years, this being given by local men.

Mr. W. H. Mazey of the W. H. Mazey company has offered a prize of $5 to the child under 14 years of age writing the best essay, and about fourteen of these essays have been received by Mr. Hopkins of the Associated Charities. The awards will all be made at the lecture which will be given by Dr. T. K. Essington, at the Newark high school auditorium on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the "Care of the Baby."

The better baby standard score card by which the children will be judged includes the name and address, the age in months, whether it is a boy or a girl, blonde or brunette, color of eyes and hair. The weight at birth, condition at birth, whether healthy or unhealthy, and whether it is the first, second, etc., child. Whether it is breast fed, how long, and if bottle fed on what foods, and how many times a day the child is being fed at present. Other questions asked are the number of teeth, does the child sleep alone, if not, with whom it sleeps. Does it sleep in the open air with open windows or with windows closed. The father, and mother's name, occupation and nationality. The facts considered in the judging will be concerning the features, head, hair, scalp, eyes, ears, nose, lips, neck, arms and hands, chest, abdomen, genitalia, spine, legs and feet, posture and gait, general nutrition of the body, mouth, throat, teeth and mentality.

On Friday, which is designated as flag day, every person interested in the betterment of the welfare of babies is asked to place a flag in the window.

Giraffes can see behind them without turning their heads.

If Ambassador Morgenthau Can Arrange With State and Navy Departments.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 8.—Henry Morgenthau, American ambassador to Turkey, took up at the navy and state departments today the question of sending a collier with food to sufferers in Palestine. He said a group of men in New York were willing to supply about 900 tons of food.

Regarding reports that he might resign, Ambassador Morgenthau said a number of his friends had urged him to do so to permit him to work for President Wilson's election but that his present intention was to return to Constantinople.

He said, however, that he might resign if it were shown during the next few weeks that he could do work for Mr. Wilson which could be accomplished by no one else.

FOUND NEW WAY TO INCREASE WEIGHT

THINKS MANY THIN PEOPLE GET NO MORE THAN HALF VALUE FROM THEIR MEALS

Run-down Underweight Men and Women Who Sought Missing Link Between Food and Eating and Flesh Making Reported Gain From 10 to 25 Pounds.

If the sugar you put in your morning coffee had not dissolved it would not have sweetened your coffee. If fifty per cent of the flesh, fat and tissues building nourishment of your meals is never assimilated by your blood as it is, no wonder you stay thin, run-down, lack strength and are from ten to twenty-five pounds underweight.

Numerous tests seem to prove that many thin people stay thin because of defective assimilation of their food. They eat enough but get little or no good from it and seemingly have missed the link between food eating and flesh making.

In an effort to correct this condition there has been found a preparation called Sargol which, taken at meals, helps to prepare the nourishing flesh-building properties of your food so that the blood may more readily absorb them. Sargol's aim is to develop the flesh building values in your food, to improve your assimilation and to check the wastes of valuable nourishment that may now be going on in your system. Its action is both natural and harmless and its results can be judged from the gratifying reports of many of its users who tell of weight increases ranging from ten to twenty-five pounds that followed its use. Evans Drug Co., W. A. Evans, 33 North Third street and many other leading druggists are offering Sargol to their customers guaranteeing to refund the full purchase price when satisfactory weight increase is not obtained from its use for sixty days as directed.

Many Cases of Rheumatism Now

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather, the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

The United States last year imported 27,562,361 pounds of black and white pepper, valued at $2,852,665.

TO DARKEN HAIR

APPLY SAGE TEA

A few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur brings back its vigor, color, gloss and youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

TODAY'S HEALTH ADVICE

Every home needs an antiseptic. In fact, you simply must have hychlorite, the wonderful effective antiseptic—ready for instant use.

Physicians and hospitals use hychlorite because it is absolutely reliable and always dependable. It is remarkably pure, safe, easy to use, and does not stain, burn or blister. It cleanses, heals and purifies quickly. Any druggist can supply hychlorite in 25c bottles.—It is very economical. There is no other reason for the spread of germs which cause colds, fevers and sore throats than the lack of a member of the family to use hychlorite and so make the home life safe. Be sure to get hychlorite at once since nothing else can take its place.

Care of Baby.

Editor of the Advocate:
I will give my plan of raising babies. Be kind to them and when they fret do not get angry. Have patience and keep them warm but give them plenty of out door exercise and let them breathe good pure air. If the doctor is needed call him but not every time the baby cries for it is not necessary. Too much medicine hurts the baby's stomach.

President's Appointments.

Editor of the Advocate:
Let the new double column editor—or is he only the editorial writer?—of the American Tribune possess his soul in peace and patience according to the Scripture. For if he will just be good himself, there will be no crash of matter or wreck of worlds on account of President Wilson's appointing Newton D. Baker his secretary of war and Louis D. Brandeis a Justice of the Supreme Court.

FLOOD COMMITTEE TO RECOMMEND FEDERAL AID FOR LEVEES

THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON FLOOD CONTROL WHICH HAS JUST RETURNED FROM A VISIT TO THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER STATES

Washington, March 8.—That the Federal Government will be called upon substantially to aid the districts which suffered during the recent floods along the Mississippi River is the opinion of the members of the House Committee on Flood Control, which has just returned to Washington after an extended inspection of the flooded area. Hearings on this subject will be held in Washington early in March, and everyone interested in the subject will be invited to appear.

The Committee on Flood Control, appointed with a view to considering what action the Government should take in helping the Mississippi River States in their present difficulty and in preventing a recurrence of the disaster, went South at the invitation of the Mississippi River Levee Association of Memphis, Tenn., an organization of business men of the levee-protected lower valley. Those who made the trip were Representatives Benjamin G. Humphreys of Mississippi, chairman of the committee; Finis J. Garrett of Tennessee, Martin D. Foster of Illinois, Joseph J. Russell of Missouri, Riley J. Wilson of Louisiana, Charles C. Kearns of Ohio, J. W. Husted of New York, W. H. Wood of Indiana, Thomas St. Paul of Montana and E. E. Denison of Illinois.

The party made a first-hand inspection of the whole lower river from Cairo to New Orleans, viewing the flood while at its crest. Steamboats were used for the greater part of the trip, but for many long stretches the travel was by train through the flooded area. At one time the special train which carried the Flood Committee was in water 50 inches deep above the rails, with the nearest dry land 17 miles away. The flooded sections of Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi were visited in company with the Army Engineers on duty in the various districts, and the entire situation was carefully investigated. Only one break had occurred on the main line of levees built by Government aid, that in the Tensas basin of Louisiana, but backwater and floods from breaks in tributary levees were responsible for damage amounting to several million dollars.

At the Tensas break hundreds of persons and nearly a thousand head of cattle were found grouped on the levee for protection from the flood. Some evidences of destitution were found and reported to the War Department, with the recommendation that Federal aid be supplied at once. Sentiment among planters and levee officials, however, was found to be in opposition to the widespread distribution of rations by the Government. The general opinion appeared to be that, if the Government would aid in the construction of permanent levees and flood controls, the South would care for its own housing and food problems. The exact report of the committee will not be determined until after the conclusion of the forthcoming hearings.

The trip of the Flood Committee was directed by John A. Fox, secretary and manager of the Mississippi River Levee Association, and a recognized expert upon flood problems. In appreciation of Mr. Fox's services and his assistance in overcoming obstacles incident to the trip, the Flood Committee presented him with a very handsome gold-headed cane.

Gums shrinking?
Danger ahead!

Go now to a mirror and examine your mouth? Do your gums look "rinsed out," shrunken? Do you see a jagged appearance in the gum-line?

If so, see your dentist. He will tell you that you have pyorrhea, and that to save your teeth you will have to fight this dread disease at once.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Sentanel Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

See your dentist twice yearly. Use Senreco twice daily.

Why Tolerate Catarrh?

You have noticed, no doubt, that any cold aggravates nasal catarrh, and the flow of mucous amazes you that such objectionable matter could find lodgment in your head. To ignore this catarrh when the cold subsides is wrong because it continues to slowly injure the delicate linings of the nasal passages and clog them up.

To correct catarrh, cleanse the nostrils frequently with a solution of warm water and salt, insert vaseline on retiring, and take a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion after meals for one month. Scott's acts through the blood to feed the tissues, and contains soothing glycerine to check the inflammation and heal the sensitive membranes. Scott's is pleasant to take.

Flies Have Killed More People Than The World's Armies

ACCORDING to an eminent authority flies have been responsible for the death of more human beings than all the armies of the world. Flies are nature's champion spreaders of disease. If you were to examine a fly's legs through a sufficiently powerful microscope you would see a good deal of decayed animal and vegetable matter and millions of ugly wriggling things, more repulsive looking than the worst nightmare monsters.

They are disease germs which the fly has picked up in the course of its travels. Diphtheria, enteric, typhoid and scarlet fever, influenza and many other diseases are doubtless resting on the legs of the fly.

Every time he alights on your head he leaves a few germs. Presently he will crawl over your food and leave some more germs for you to eat. Perhaps he will drown himself in your milk jug. That will suit the germs, because they breed quicker in milk than in any other medium.

If you are in good health you may not come to much harm.

It is to children that flies are most dangerous. Whenever there is an extra number of flies the infantile mortality always becomes abnormal.

One of the reasons why there is less infantile disease, comparatively speaking, in the large towns than in the country is because there are fewer flies. The pigsties, cow sheds, stables, refuse heaps and fertilizer piles of the country breed 90 per cent of the flies.

It is never too late to start. Keep your rooms clean, cool and dry. Keep all food in a cool, dark pantry, and place covers over it if necessary. See that the lids of your garbage cans are always on tight, and do not allow rubbish to collect in your garden.

And whenever you see a fly kill it. Remember that every fly is your enemy.

—Too Much.

In persuasive tones the good looking woman who had secured an interview with the taxicab manager tried to convince him that the company owed her $2.02.

"Something broke," she said, "and I was held up for forty-five minutes while the driver tinkered with the machine."

Her manner was so impressive that the manager was on the point of writing out a check for the money demanded, but before doing so he remarked: "It certainly was a case of overcharging. It wasn't your fault the cab broke down, and he should not have charged you for the time it took to make repairs."

"Oh," said she, "he didn't. It isn't overcharging I am complaining about. He made me late for a bargain sale that closed at 11 o'clock, and when I finally got there I had to pay $4 for a blouse that had sold up to 11 o'clock for $1.98. It is the difference I am fighting for."

Then the manager closed his check book.—New York Times.

Salt Means Much to Health.

"If the human race should be deprived of salt, even for a period of a few months," said a physician, "we would not only lose a natural healthful incentive for our food, but disease, with all its attendant miseries, would spread with such relentless speed as to defy the efforts of the most skillful doctors of the land. Ailing persons frequently refuse sugar, but they seldom turn up their noses at common salt. That is because there is in the body a deficiency of chloride of sodium, and nature intuitively excites the desire for it. Salt is essential to health and life and is as much a food as bread or flesh. If there is no wish for salt in a person, doctors uniformly conclude that disease in some form is lurking unsuspected in the system. It is an imperative duty of those who have at heart the well being of their fellow creatures to impress upon them that if they wish their blood to be in a healthy condition they must make salt a frequent article of diet."—Chicago News.

REVERSAL

OF VERDICT SOUGHT BY COM-

HAM DAMAGE SUIT

Taken Before Court of Appeals Now
In Session in This City—News of the Courts.

In the court of appeals the court heard the arguments of counsel in the case of the County Commissioners vs. Leon Clapham. The Commissioners bring the action in the court of appeals to reverse a judgment against them for $3,000 obtained in common pleas court by Leon Clapham for personal injuries sustained by striking a wire stretched across the Newark and Granville pike. Clapham, with an other boy, was riding on a motorcycle. The wire had been stretched across the pike during its construction. Plaintiff claimed that the entrance to the pike near Granville was not barricaded to keep people from entering the road at that point, and that he had no notice of the wire.

Divorce Petition.

Arthur Evans has filed a petition

Evans. The parties were married Sept. 29, 1910. The petition alleges that the defendant has been guilty of gross neglect of duty in that she failed to perform her household duties, except when she had the inclination to do so; that she was guilty of extreme cruelty in that she would call the plaintiff vile names and strike him, that on May 20, 1915, she deserted the plaintiff and left home for several months and finally asked to be allowed to return, promising to be a dutiful wife, which promise the plaintiff states she failed to keep. He asks

There's a Real Advantage In Choosing Your Spring Suit Or Coat Early in The Season

First, you have the pleasure of wearing a new style garment while it is really new. There is surely pleasure and not a little distinction in being among the first to wear the new modes. Then, too, you have so much longer to enjoy being dressed in the season's smart new fashion—a whole season instead of just a part of it. Our early display of suits and coats is a most interesting exhibit of authoritative fashions for spring.

Choose Your New Suit Now

The early choosing of your spring suit in a leisurely fashion, before the sales-people are rushed, results in gratification, both in choice of the particular style best suited for you, and in the comfort you have in knowing your new suit is home and ready any time you want to put it on. A wonderful display awaits your choice, embracing tailored and fancy suits in cloth in plain colors and black and white checks. Handsome models in silk, some all silk, while others are a combination of silk and cloth.

The Newest Models In Spring Coats

Show many new and distinctive features, such as cape collars, high collars, odd shapes in sleeves, large pockets, etc. If your fancy leads you to the ruffled effects, or if you prefer the more conservative belted models, you will find here the coat just suited to your particular need. The fabric range is large indeed, striking plaids and striped materials, white chamois, gossams in colors such as yellow, pink, etc. Also many stylish weaves in plain colors and mixtures.

The New Dresses Are Attractive

Dresses for service, as well as for dress occasions will be found in all the new and dainty spring colorings. There are so many points of newness, the new skirt effect, bodices showing striking effects of lace trimmings, embroidered effects, fancy collars, etc. Many handsome models show a combination of taffeta and Georgette crepe, while others show the beautiful effect of combining plain colors with fancy stripes and plaids.

The Spring Styles In Separate Skirts

Are so different that you will be interested in looking at them. Handsome models in silk in moire plaids, fancy stripes, plain taffetas, silk tulle, in wool, fancy stripes, plaids, chudah silk, white broadcloth, gossam in white, rose, blue.

It's to Be a Great Waist Season

And when you see the beautiful models being shown you will want to select not only one, but a number of them.

Beautiful Waists at $1.95

Lingerie waists with lace trimmings, crepe-de-chine models, satin stripe tub silks, and China silks in handsome styles.

Unusual Values $3.48 Each

Such a big line to select from, including lingerie, combination of chiffon and lace, crepe-de-chine in white with colored collars, satin stripe crepes in white and flesh, lace waists with chiffon foundation. Ask to see the showing at $3.48 each

FURIOUS

BATTLE OF VERDUN DEVELOPS IN BOTH EXTENT AND INTENSITY.

Germans Employing Masses of Men Without Counting the Cost Gain Slightly.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, March 8.—The battle of Verdun developed both in intensity and in extent all day yesterday and is now raging along the line from Cheppy in the Argonne to Fresnes in the Woivre, showing that the second attack for the stronghold is to be made on a larger scale than the first. So far, according to reports received here, the Germans, by employing masses of men without counting cost, obtained some slight gains both to the west of the Meuse and in the Woivre, where they carried Fresnes after a fierce struggle.

Desperate fighting is again going on the left bank of the river. Following up the advantage of yesterday the Germans, going around the foot of the slope which served them as a mask, followed the railroad and entered Regnieville. From there they launched 15,000 men against Hill No. 265 to the east of Cote de L'Oie and carried it. Thus they control the loop of the Meuse within which Regnieville is located. The French withdrew their right from within the loop and it now rests on the Meuse above Cumieres. This withdrawal from an advanced position on the left bank became necessary, according to the military experts, in order to maintain alignment with the positions on the right bank and it would have been difficult to hold the advanced point which the Germans could at the same time attack in front and on the flank.

France waits anxiously but confidently the issue of today's battle. The Germans thus far at the cost of large losses have obtained command of the approaches to the main French positions beyond the west bank of the Meuse. The real struggle will begin when German masses hurl themselves again on the four-mile line of heights extending from Bethincourt to Cumieres. Corbeaux wood in which the Germans succeeded in establishing themselves is within a hollow between Dead Man and Goose Hills, and as neither position is endangered the German success is of little strategic importance.

It is known here that the Germans set aside 200,000 men to capture Verdun. Only 200,000 having been employed up to yesterday, it was a question whether the remaining 100,000 would be used to make a sudden descent on some other part of the French line in developing the offensive against the fortress.

The heavy attack west of the river, however, leaves that question no longer to be settled.

The impression of members of parliament who are kept regularly informed as to the progress of the battle is that the defense will be able to resist all onslaughts the Germans are able to make, and that Goose Hill, on the left bank, will play a role similar to Douaumont on the right. It is expected the battle will reach its climax tomorrow or Friday. Not until then will it be possible to judge which way the battle will go.

SAN FRANCISCO TONG LEADERS GET A WARNING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) San Francisco, March 8.—Tong leaders in San Francisco's Chinese quarters, received a warning today from the chief of police which stated that unless peace was made immediately between the Sueyong and Hop Sing Tong, he would declare a blockade upon Chinatown and warn all tourists to stay away.

Officials are of the opinion that this threat to suspend temporarily one of the most prolific sources of commercial activity in the Chinese quarter will cause a speedy adjustment of the tong fighting which has resulted in the killing of two Chinese and the wounding of six others within the last two days.

BONUSES SHARED WITH EMPLOYEES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Youngstown, March 8.—The sixth annual distribution of bonuses to employees under its profit-sharing plan, is being made today by the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company. Over $250,000 will be given to the five thousand employees eligible to participate, the bonuses representing five per cent of the annual wages for the year, 1915.

Final Arguments Are Submitted In Coal Rates Case

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, March 8.—Final arguments were made today in the Hocking Valley coal rates and the case was placed in the hands of the public utilities commission for decision. That body will pass on the question of whether 85 cents a ton is too high a rate for transportation of coal from Nelsonville to Toledo, as is contended by Hocking valley coal operators and miners. The commission probably will take two months to reach its decision. The complaint was brought originally against the Hocking Valley railway by the United Mine Workers and the operators intervened on the side of the operators.

A committee from the Stage Employees Union appeared before the board and objected to the manning of the high school stage with students, claiming that experienced union men should be employed and stating that their union objected to the teaching of boys to manipulate the stage as it infringed on their profession. Members of the board explained that the boys did the work for a small consideration and used the money in purchasing school books and that the auditorium as a rule was generally used for affairs of an educational nature and along school lines and that as the auditorium was not operated for profit and was not a paying proposition it would be impossible to unionize the labor used. There is only a small stage setting and to place men as required by the Stage Workers' Union on the school stage would necessitate the paying out of more money than the revenue derived.
